PRESS RELEASE

WetStone to Present Techno Forensics & Digital Investigations Conference

Myrtle Beach, SC and Ithaca NY, May 31, 2009:

WetStone announced today their sponsorship of the 2009 Techno Forensics and Digital Investigation Conference being held in Gaithersburg, MD, October 26–28, 2009.

A cadre of domestic and international speakers, panelists and interactive technical experts will be presented at this year's conference. "We are honored to join with the Training Company in presenting the premier Techno Forensic and Digital Investigation Conference" Stated Chet Hosmer, Sr. Vice President and Chief Scientist at WetStone. "We are working closely with our colleagues throughout the industry to bring exceptional technical content to this year's event".

WetStone will be hosting three-days of technical presentations at NIST (National Institute of Standards and Technology) this year in the prestigious Red Auditorium. The theme for this technical track is "Digital Investigation...The Road Ahead". During this track we are charting a course for the future in digital investigation. We invite you to be a part of this spectacular event, and to participate in this technical track as a speaker, panelist or as an active participant.
